

EXT. A HUGE TREE, LANDSCAPE IN THE BACKDROP – DAY

A dove in a left palm smoothly touches by the right hand, lifts up the hands and frees it to the sky. Following his hands we see Jesus happily looking at the flying dove.

Dove flies up in the sky.

Jesus turns back at the crowd who waits to hear him.

They look at him with devotion and great expectation.

Jesus smiles at them and walks between them. He holds his arms on a person's shoulders like a healing touch and walks on looking at each one with divine love and compassion.

JESUS (MATTHEW 6:24)

No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and wealth.

Matthew, the tax collector is coming there.

People's attention turns and they look at him.

A MAN IN THE CROWD says

Look, Matthew, the tax collector is coming.

Matthew is coming.

ANOTHER MAN IN THE CROWD angrily asks.

Why are you here? You are a sinner, a tax collector?

Mathhew, the tax collector, regretfully offers a loaf of bread to Jesus.

Matthew

Master, will you accept this offering from me?

People feel strange and look at each other.

Everybody looks at it with a doubt. It seems they want to know whether he will receive offerings from a sinner.

Jesus smiles and receives his offer and bites the bread.

JESUS

One day I will come to your house and eat with you.

Matthew's eyes fills with tears and happiness.

Jesus compassionately smiles at him. After swallowing a piece of bread he starts walking between the people.

Many gather around him and interestingly listens him. Poor people, tax collectors, scribes, Pharisees, etc are there.

It is not those who are healthy who need a physician, but those who are sick.

Pharisees wonders thinking "how he hears my question?"

JESUS continues (MATTHEW 9:13)

Go and learn what this means: I DESIRE COMPASSION, AND NOT SACRIFICE, for I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners. (looking at Matthew) Matthew, follow me.
